

What is Cheating and Plagiarism?

❖ It is cheating when you....

1. copy a friend's homework or class work or let them copy yours. If someone asks to see your homework, tell them NO! Otherwise you will both receive a consequence.
2. look at someone's paper, notes, an open book (without permission), etc. during a test or quiz.
3. communicate with another student, in any fashion, during a test/quiz or outside of class about the contents of a test/quiz.

Cheating can lead to plagiarism!

❖ It is plagiarism when you....

4. say the work you have is yours, when it is not.
5. do not cite the source when you have used other's words, sentences, music, or images in your work.
6. paraphrase someone else's thoughts, opinions, experiences or ideas without citation.
7. cut and paste from on-line sources to use as your own work (i.e. websites, quizlet)
8. change just a few words from a source (or a friend) and use it as your own.

Anything that is:

- Summarized
- Copied
- Paraphrased
- Borrowed
- Or using the structure of (without citation) - is considered plagiarism.

"So whoever knows the right thing to do and fails to do it, for him it is sin." James 4:17
